

Tim McVay of Freedom Counseling Center Believes in Cornerstone Alliance

Tim McVay believes in Cornerstone Alliance. According to Tim, supporting the efforts of Berrien County's economic development organization is important for everyone. "Economic development is directly related to the quality of life that we all enjoy. It provides solid neighborhoods, highly ranked schools and financial strength for the entire community."

Tim is one of five therapists at Freedom Counseling Center in St. Joseph Charter Township providing high quality counseling and psychological evaluations to individuals, parents, couples, adolescents and children throughout Southwest Michigan. They opened their doors in 1998, and Tim fully understands the challenges faced by business owners. Tim has worked with the Cornerstone Alliance Small Businesses service team to expand his services. "Cornerstone Alliance is the strongest and most important partner a local business has as their advocate. It has always amazed me how much behind the scenes effort they put forth. They do a tremendous amount of work to attract new business to the community, and to grow existing businesses."

Tim invests in Cornerstone Alliance because he supports the work that they do for the entire county. "We all benefit from having a strong business community around us," says Tim. "Growing up I never lived anywhere more than 3 years. I consider this area my home, and have seen many improvements throughout the years. I am proud to support the work of Cornerstone Alliance!"
